1. This is a war for lib - er - ty! That's
2. The Al - lies 'mid their bit - ter tears Have what we're fight - ing for. We fight for free - dom of the seas held the line four years. Their front is bent but still not broke

So our ships may sail where they please. No Hun, how - ev - er strong in And we'll be there for the next stroke. Foch says he'd rath - er fight than might, Shall halt A - mer - i - ca in this fight Or run; Then when we "coun - ter" the war is won. And us ovr - rule by "Di - vine Right!" so- we fin - ish the Su - per Hun! When we march in - to old Ber - lin Old Kai-ser Bill will have a chill. He'll wear a sick - ly grin and he'll say "Mein Gott! this is dif-ferent than I thought," When we march in - to old Ber - lin (And that is what we'll sure-ly do;) We'll make him doff his tin - can hel-met To the old Red, White and Blue. When we Blue. Blue.
